Dear Colleague

Assalamu Alaikum,

Let's all get together for discussing latest developments in respiratory medicine and their application for enhancing the quality of care for patients. As part of our relentless efforts towards continuing professional development, Bangladesh Lung Foundation is organizing the 6th International Conference on Lung Health - PULMOCON 2019 on 05-08 November, 2019 at the Bangabandhu International Conference Center (BICC), Dhaka, Bangladesh.

We are formulating an attractive program in order to enable participants to comprehend the present challenges and gain insight into the latest breakthroughs in the management of respiratory illnesses.

State of the art approaches to Asthma COPD, Interstitial Lung Diseases, Sleep Apnea, pulmonary rehabilitation and newly emerging respiratory infections will be expounded. Realistic approaches to overcome challenges posed by air pollution will be highlighted. The exciting developments in the fight against drug-resistant TB (MDR, pre-XDR and XDR), in light of WHO guidelines of 2019 will be discussed. A wide variety of contemporary themes have also been included.

A multitude of distinguished experts in various fields of pulmonology from different corners of the globe have been invited to grace the conference. We expect our participants to utilize this excellent opportunity to have comprehensive interaction with the invited faculty.

We cordially request you to register for the conference. We firmly believe that it will quench your thirst for knowledge, enhance your skills and enable you to utilize the latest innovations for providing improved services to suffering humanity, while enjoying the traditional "Royal Bengal" hospitality of Bangladesh.
